To whom it may concern, I object gratefully along with the majority of Gosport people against the plans you have proposed regarding the Bus station, any body in their right mind would not inflict such a blot on the landscape in such a lovely area, what on earth is wrong with you people are you blind and stupid?, leave the Falkland gardens alone and create something that fits into the area we live in, your time and brain cells could be put to better use redeveloping the town centre to attract more people to the area and like everyone says the A32 is a dreadful road, that really does need investment its constant gridlock!!.
