I would like more consideration given to wildlife, green spaces, trees, nature etc etc. Developments, housing, roads etc. seem to be of main priority. It seems to be all about human wants and needs. I remember Gosport many years ago when there were no traffic lights, no roundabouts, no yellow or white lines on the roads, and not so many cars and more country lanes, and cattle grazing in the fields! M.O. ^{land} and plenty of wildlife space now seems to be replaced by housing and more housing, more cars, more road building, more humanising. Large areas of natural habitat now are becoming just pockets, or gone.

When planning the waterfront development please consider trees, wild areas, grass etc and realise that wildlife was here before us and they need their space too.

In my opinion, only the bus station needs some attention, perhaps a face lift and tidy up. So much has been taken away from Nature over the years, surely they have their rights too? No more roads or developments. No more humanising every natural space, rather giving something back. Enough damage has been done.

We are a peninsula and not enough space to keep on adding more humans etc
